

BAYS ARE JADED

... SAYS JONES

By Alan Shiell

"Glenelg looked to me to be a little bit jaded and lacking overall form," Centrals' coach Dennis Jones said tonight.

Glenelg coach Neil Kerley was an angry man after his team surprisingly lost to South last week.

Kerley, never one to accept defeat lightly would have been in an even more furious mood tonight.

Jones was naturally elated with his side's win although, to him, it was not unexpected.

Jones said: "OK, we've lost a couple of games. But we've found touch and from now on can only get better."

"Our game will improve to the stage where we will be able to compete with every side."

'Had better'

"It was a good win today, but we've had better."

"Our win proved that our method of play is the correct one."

"We tackled hard, attacked the ball, played on and kicked long."

"Our side is one of the biggest I've ever seen. I believe we have the tallest and heaviest side in the competition."

"We've had a minimum of training this season, but our players' ability to continue on with the game and put their bodies in over the ball was very reassuring."

Bay hopes dive: Look to Redlegs

By Alan Shiell

Glenelg are not out of it yet, but their chances of making the final four nosedived alarmingly at the Bay Oval today.

And Norwood's 28-point win over North at Prospect confirmed the Redlegs as distinct final four material.

They were the two most significant happenings in today's third round of league football.

Glenelg's 23-point loss to Centrals—their third in as many weeks—has left the Tigers with the formidable task of winning at least 12 or 13 of their remaining 18 games. Glenelg really can only afford to lose about five more games if they are to reach the finals.

And Glenelg still have to play Port twice and Sturt three times.

The Bays next game is against Sturt at Adelaide Oval on Monday week (the Anzac Day holiday).

Glenelg's following three opponents will be: Torrens (Glenelg), Norwood (Norwood), North (Adelaide).

Glenelg coach Neil Kerley could not be contacted tonight, but he said on Thursday: "Losing your first three games just about puts you out of business for the season."

Two hurt

The Tigers had two injured players after today's game, but neither is serious.

Half-back Bob Whittaker has a bruised thigh and half-forward Ray Button has a bruised shin.

Norwood's convincing win over a disappointing North has placed the Redlegs at the top of the premiership table ahead of Port on percentage.

Norwood and Port are the only unbeaten teams. Glenelg, Torrens, and Woodville have still to win a match.

Norwood's victory today was their first at Prospect since 1965.

Redleg full forward Mike Coligan kicked six goals today and holds a four-goal lead over South's Phil Howlett, who kicked nine goals against Woodville at Adelaide Oval today.

South centre half-forward Peter Jones damaged a knee ligament against Woodville and could miss some games.

Woodville centre half-forward Malcolm Blight went off with a "corked thigh" at the start of the third quarter at Adelaide, and ruckman Fred Hansch was replaced at three-quarter time with a shoulder injury.

AT GLENELG

Centrals jumped the Bays from the first bounce at Glenelg Oval.

The Bulldogs won decisively because they outplayed Glenelg with pace and teamwork.

Glenelg appeared flat-footed and lethargic.

They never recovered from Centrals' initial burst of 2-2 in the first two minutes, kicking into the stiff breeze.

Farnham, winning the tugs, supported by Haughan and Casserly, gave the Centrals little men a feast and they tore pieces in the sluggish Glenelg defence.

Glenelg's ruck work was tightened by Cornes. But the Bays were unable to capitalise on the opportunities because of the efficient tackling of the Centrals side.

Pressure

Early in the game Mulholland and Norsworthy in particular created the loose man effectively.

Mulholland kept it up for the entire game. Voigt, particularly in the first half, offset this advantage with his tireless ball-getting but he had no support.

Centrals, however, always had more players at the drop of the ball, allowing them to break clear and dispatch the ball with far more deliberation.

Thanks only to Voigt, Marker and Cornes as Glenelg trailed at half-time by only 16 points.

Marker played a lone hand across centre where he eclipsed Johns in the first half and continued to play well thereafter. But the Bays received no drive whatsoever from their wings for the entire game.

Despite the number of kicks won by Marker, Johns turned in a solid last half when his penetration—the result of good support from his team-mates—did much for Centrals superiority.

Glenelg had a chance to redeem their first half effort when Sandland had two opportunities to goal early in the third term and could manage only behinds on each occasion.

Conversion of these chances was the necessary needle Glenelg required to put them in an offensive mood but, despite the two quick goals from W. Phillis that followed, they missed the opportunity.

Burst

Although Centrals remained under the hammer when Cornes goaled eight minutes into the quarter for the Bays to lead by five points, the Bulldogs' defence remained calm.

Nicks, in particular, who had hardly been sighted until this term, burst on to the scene to hold up repeated attacks and generate valuable rebound for the Bulldogs.

But the biggest hurdle Glenelg were unable to negotiate was the blunting of their star full forward Fred Phillis by the under-rated Centrals full back Kroehn.

Strong

He was capably supported by the dashing Swinstead, who gobbled up all the crumbs with an insatiable appetite, and the strong marking of O'Connor.

Centrals would be well pleased with the first-up performance of Haughan—cleared from WA to take part in the game—who marked and kicked strongly and in particular created unlimited opportunities with the use of good football brains.

His individual effort at the eight minute mark of the final term—when he plucked the ball over the back of the hooks at a throw-in and hooked a magnificent goal, proved to be a match-winner.

At this stage, Glenelg still had a chance to regain poise but Haughan's effort completely sealed the coffin.
