Norw.	6-3	10-10	16-17	20-24	144
Glen.	8-0	13-7	14-12	19-13	127

Norwood played themselves into premiership contention with a magnificent 17-point win over "unbeatable" Glenelg at the Bay yesterday.

Written off after their poor showing in the League Cup match against Sturt last Monday, the Redlegs gave the Tigers a lesson at their own game.

Slick handball, precision kicking and high marking saw Norwood cut back a 15-point half-time deficit to hit the front in the third term and hang on to win.

Glenelg threw everything they had at Norwood in the last term, but the Redlegs, after leading by three points half-way through, gradually got back on top to win convincingly.

Ross Dillon was the architect behind the Redleg win with a powerhouse display at centre half-forward.

In the second half the Redlegs outkicked, out-marked and outran the Tigers in a display of concentrated team power which would have beaten any side.

EVEN TUSSLE

A near capacity crowd saw umpire Peter Craig start the game, and from the outset Norwood went into attack.

Carey twice held them out and the ball was forced downfield for Caldwell and Cornes to boot Glenelg 12 points clear.

Norwood came back through Dillon, and the two sides settled down to battle evenly for most of the quarter.

Three late goals, two to Hodgeman and one to Cornes, saw Glenelg lead at the end of the first term by 9 points, after kicking eight goals without a miss.

Jumping Norwood early in the second term, the Tigers raced 17 points clear before Norwood came back with goals to Dillon and Woodcock.

Copping was giving Glenelg a ton of drive from the pivot while Bennett (Glenelg) and Craig (Norwood) were doing good work around the packs.

When Button went off the ball the Redlegs lost drive, as Carey took control of the bounces for Glenelg.

Norwood had trouble finding the big sticks during the term as Glenelg put on four goals, mainly due to fine work from Bennett and MacFarlane, who was easily beating Gallagher on a wing.

Nearing time-in Glenelg led by 28 points before Gallagher and Turbill put late goals on the board to keep the Redlegs in the game.

After the big break Norwood clicked into top gear.

With Stasinowsky, Taylor and Kerley leading a tight defence they held out an early rush by Glenelg, keeping the Tigers to four points.

KICKED CLEAR

Woodcock had started to come into the game on a half-forward flank and he popped through Norwood's first goal for the term, followed shortly afterwards by Gallagher.

Rosser was controlling one wing. Gallagher had lifted to take control of the other and the Redlegs were in full flight.

By midway through the term, with Glenelg dropping from the game, they had taken control.

Umpire Craig repeatedly handed out decisions which angered supporters on both sides, in a far from consistent display.

While some of the Tigers appeared to be upset, the Redlegs remained unruffled as they put on four late goals—two from Dillon—to set up a 14-point lead as time ran out.

Three missed shots could have cost them dearly, as they began the last quar-

By Greg Reid

The Glenelg bubble burst in a day of upsets yesterday as three fancied sides went under.

The Tigers, tabbed "The Invincibles" looked far from world-beaters as they went under to a ruthless Norwood by 17 points at Glenelg.

In the other upsets South defeated North by 54 points and Centrals suffered their sixth straight loss at the hands of lowly Woodville when they went down by 21 points.

Glenelg can be excused a little for today's loss as they were without star centreman Peter Marker and ace full forward Fred Phillis.

SCRAMBLED

But nothing can be taken away from the Redlegs who played top-line football to come back from 23 points down late in the second term to win after a tension-packed last quarter.

South, after being jumped by North early in the game, registered their third win with a great fightback at Adelaide Oval.

The Panthers were down 10 points at the first change, had scrambled two points clear at half-time and then drew away to win.

LOVEDAY CHARGED

West captain, Bob Loveday, will face the tribunal on an elbowing charge.

Loveday was reported by boundary umpire B. Geue for allegedly elbowing an unnamed Port player in the face during the second term.

The only serious injury for the round was in the Norwood-Glenelg clash where Glenelg half-back, Jim Rawson, was forced off at three-quarter time with an ankle injury which might keep him out of the game next week against Port.

The Port-West game was the only record-breaker of the day.

West's 17-10 was the Bloods' highest losing score at Richmond, eclipsing the 16-11 they kicked when going under to Glenelg in 1972.

Port's winning score of 20-17 was their highest winning score at Richmond.

ter 17 points down.

An early goal to Bennett and four missed shots from Redleg forwards had the crowd screaming as the Tigers came back.

Carey and Bennett again got into action, putting through goals as Glenelg cut the lead to three points.

With the ball moving from end to end with great speed Norwood again kicked clear with goals from Craig and Woodcock.

However, it all seemed in vain as Glenelg steadied and came back with goals to Wayne Phillis and Hodgeman to be four points down after Craig had kicked a behind.

The crowd, sensing a late burst by the Tigers, were disappointed.

Dillon pulled in a towering match-winning mark and booted straight, and then Dunstan flashed in for a second as the Redlegs steadied.
