Norwood kicked 10 goals in the first quarter but still lost to Glenelg by 17 points in a spectacular goal-spreed at Glenelg Oval yesterday.

The Tigers out-scored the Red-legs 15.8 to 7.8 after trailing by 31 points (5.2 to 10.3) at quarter-time.

Glenelg owed its seventh win in 12 matches mostly to the relentless running and explosive creativity of its on-ball players, who, significantly, had been much quieter the previous week when North Adelaide won by 52 points at Football Park.

Centreman Darren Mansell and rover Nick Chigwidden led the way with tearaway displays that had a huge influence on the result.

Rover Paul Hallahan gave Chigwidden good support and wingmen Lynden Bow and Grant Reubenicht (off the bench) combined with Mansell to complete a winning centre-line.

As a result, there was no shortage of opportunities for grateful forwards, of whom Mark Russell, in a pocket, and Clayton Lamb, on a flank, were the most damaging.

Russell, a deceptively strong overhead mark and an equally sound kick, scored seven goals, while Lamb booted three and was responsible for several others with his unselfish team play.

Chris Melican rucked aggressively until he almost fell over with fatigue, and Allan Bartlett shrugged off the disappointment of being delisted by the Crows and was always conspicuous, particularly when switched to centre half-back.

Norwood relied largely on the efforts of back pocket Brett James, forward pocket Michael Aish (six goals), rover-cum-back-pocket Lester Ross and big David Pittman, a much-improved, mobile and high-marking performer at centre half-forward and in ruck.

Norwood captain Garry McIntosh did not look to be completely recovered from his calf injury.

Rover Stephen Rowe's late spell on the bench suggested he may have come back a week too early from his appendix surgery.

Glenelg coach Kym Hodgeman said last
