Reports sour Tigers'

Erratic Glenelg's satisfaction at returning to the winning list with a 33-point success over Central District at Elizabeth Oval was soured by the report of three key players — captain Scott Salisbury, Michael Murphy and Lynden Bow.

Also requested to face the SANFL tribunal this week were Central's full forward Rudi Mandemaker and forward Gary Gunn. All players were reported during a torrid second term. Three were booked by reserve umpire Ron Bettridge after Bow had clashed heavily with Central utility Chris Pyman close to the players' race.

Pyman was carried from the ground on a stretcher.

Bettridge claimed Bow had allegedly struck Pyman with a "raised right elbow." Bettridge also reported Murphy and Gunn for allegedly striking.

FREES

By Leo Schlink

Salisbury, playing his first match since July 20 last season, was booked by field umpire Michael Abbott for allegedly striking Mandemaker; Mandemaker was reported by Abbott for allegedly striking Salisbury.

The incidents disguised an error-ridden, uninspiring affair that Glenelg dominated from the outset.

And, even though it was outscored by a more committed opponent in the final term. Glenelg had plenty in hand.

The Bays had winners in attack, none more imposing than strong-marking John Fidge and late inclusion Murphy. Murphy at centre halfforward did much in the opening term to vindicate coach Kym Hodgeman's decision to omit Jason Bromilow.

Boasting a more accomplished look with the return of Salisbury and David Marshall, Glenelg led by 34 points at quarter-time.

Central had to wait until the eighth minute of the second quarter before its hardworking captain Greg Smith was able to break the drought. Mandemaker goaled after the half-time siren to ease an embarrassing scenario.

Central did improve, however, despite the obvious handicap that came with Robert Handley's back injury in the second quarter. But it had no answer for the collective strength of a more experienced Bay outfit, which could count among its better players Chigwidden, Hallahan, McCully, Murphy, Fidge. Lamb, Stuart, and Viska.

Among those in the reserves yesterday were State player Simon Hele and Crows' squad members, Paul Rouvray and Jarrod Hocking. Reputations, clearly, count for little at Brighton Rd.
