Glenelg's Simon Cox goes to ground for the ball

11 TO HODGES

Scott Hodges ... 11 to No 11

AN 11-goal haul from Scott Hodges put Port Adelaide on the warpath against a gritty but outclassed South Adelaide at Alberton yesterday.

Hodges now has 86 goals with four more minor round games and the finals to add to his impressive total.

But Port's 20.11 (131) to 11.12 (78) victory was in stark contrast to the performance of second-placed Central District, which was swamped 11.17 (83) to 4.7 (31) by Norwood. The Bulldogs failed to score in the final quarter. In the other SANFL matches, North crushed Sturt and the Eagles were too strong for Glenelg.

In the AFL, powerhouse teams Hawthorn and Essendon have plunged deeper into trouble after comprehensive defeats yesterday.

Regining premiers Essendon, in seventh position before yesterday's round, crashed to tenth with a 21.9 (135) to 8.10 (58) hammering from Melbourne.

And Hawthorn suffered its third consecutive loss after a string of defeats at the beginning of the minor round.

The Hawks went down 15.14 (104) to 9.18 (72) to Carlton and are just clinging to their position in the final eight.

Depleted Eagles grind Tigers

By PAUL DOWLING

Early it was Camporeale, with his quick thinking and laser-accurate disposal, who ignited the Eagles and forced his opponent Brett Deane on to the opposite wing.

Simon Hele took over on Camporeale who continued to run riot for the remainder of the first half before running out of legs in the last hour.

Glenelg matched the Eagles in the first half but lost the game in the third quarter when they could manage only 1.2 with the breeze.

Eagles coach Bruce Winter introduced Paul Chapman after half-time and, after relieving Scott Morphet in the centre, collected disposals at will in his first league hit out since recovering from a knee injury. He finished the second half with eight kicks and 11 handballs.

"I was pleased with the win because the conditions weren't easy," Winter said.

Williams was encouraged by the way his team battled the game out, given its meek fade-out against the Eagles at Glenelg in round 11.

Ladder leaders the Eagles yesterday overcame a sodden Woodville Oval and the absence of eight league regulars to comfortably conquer Glenelg by 37 points.

Glenelg's 10th loss of the season leaves it clinging precariously to fifth position.

However, more positive news for Tiger fans could have been the earlier appearance of Adelaide Crow Matthew Liptak on the interchange bench in the reserves.

Liptak, forced out of the league team because of a rib injury, was never a chance to play. But Glenelg was looking to exploit the league rule which states Crows players must play three matches for their local club to qualify for the SANFL finals.

Liptak played his first Glenelg game of the season last week in the A-grade against Norwood and, provided the SANFL recognises yesterday's reserves "appearance," he will require only one more match to qualify.

Glenelg coach Mark Williams explained the Liptak stunt by saying: "We have to give ourselves the best chance come finals time".

But, first, Glenelg has to make the major round - no certainty on yesterday's performance which leaves North, West and South Adelaide breathing down its neck.

Glenelg pushed but never threatened a Woodville-West Torrens outfit minus Peter Schwarz, Andrew Payze, Jason Spehr, Mark Kennedy, Romano Negri, Stuart Totham, Matthew Kluzek and Nick Pesch.

In their absence West Australian recruit Greg Walker, rookie wingman Scott Camporeale and follower Steven Sziller took up the slack to grind Glenelg into the muddy turf.

Only a disciplined Glenelg defence restricted the Eagles, who had enough of the ball to win by much more.

Hamish Stuart was outstanding at centre half-back on Andrew Taylor and Grant Reubenicht did his best to curb the Eagles' resting rovers while consistently rebounding his team into attack.

Peter Berbakov beat Laurence Schache but rookie full back Simon Cox, despite winning plenty of the ball, was taught a lesson by the class of Sam Phillipou.
