Jubilation for Tiger pair Craig McRae and Simon Angove

Glenelg stunned Port Adelaide with an 11-goal second term and went on to win a magnificent contest at Football Park yesterday.

And it was certainly timely as Glenelg was struggling towards the bottom of the premiership table and the critics were becoming more vocal.

They were silenced this time when this young, enthusiastic side displayed enormous courage and a desperate will to win against Port which was previously unbeaten this season.

Glenelg's second term was possibly the best it had displayed since Mark Williams took over as coach last year.

Williams said it was important that his players continued to believe in themselves throughout the match.

"I'm really happy for the whole club," he said. "The boys did a magnificent job."

The fantastic second-quarter effort was inspired by ruckman Stewart McCully who ripped Port apart with his clever taps at the centre bounces.

He had an incredible 14 valuable, well-placed hit-outs in this term and continued to control the square.

A host of players including Simon Hele, who was fantastic, carried on the great work.

After leading by 22 points at quarter time, Port succumbed to the pressure and failed to man up.

However, it was a clear case of Glenelg being superior rather than Port making mistakes.

The intensity became stronger when Port came from a 22-point deficit at half-time to level the scores at the last change.

This was when Glenelg was under real pressure, and it came through in tremendous fashion.

Bradley Smith, playing only his second league game, kicked seven goals. He was strongly supported by Simon Cox playing his fifth game and Shane Fishlock who was making his league debut.

They were just a few of the youngsters who injected the Tigers with plenty of bite and have again raised the hopes of their supporters.

It would be easy to say Port simply had a bad day. Coach John Cahill certainly wasn't impressed with his team's slack defensive work in most positions and a failure to get to the ball first.

But this match was of top SANFL standard and Glenelg had to work hard for every possession.

Port, yet again, was admirably served by Tim Ginever and Stephen Williams, but it won few other positions.

The forwards had it tough because of the determined defensive work, especially from Ben Roehrich and Hamish Stuart. The ultimate mistake came seconds before time-on began in the last quarter when Port was 11 points down. Darren Smith marked less than a metre out and kicked into the man standing the mark.
