Port Machine stretches class gap

A HARD-WORKING Port Adelaide Magpies kept a firm grip on top spot yesterday by outclassing Glenelg 9.10 (64) to 4.4 (28) in the AFL curtain-raiser at Football Park.

The game was virtually in the bag for the Magpies less than 10 minutes into the third term when Scott Hahn and Andrew Obst slotted through goals to give the premiers a handy 23-point margin in a low-scoring, grinding contest.

Port was miserly in defence, dangerous up forward and mobile in the middle against the dogged but ultimately outgunned Tigers.

Magpie captain David Brown (34 possessions) knocked up getting kicks in the midfield, Julian Wait (24) relished his return from injury and carved up on the wing and, combining in the ruck contests, Brett Chalmers and Daryl Poole made life difficult for powerful Matthew Golding. Up forward, Bryan Beinke sparked the side with three goals while Damien Sheehan, Trent Ormond-Allen and Jared Poulton led a watertight defence.

"We (Port) are nine and one which looks like we are travelling pretty well but in the last month everyone in the team would agree we have been a bit down," said Beinke.

"We have had guys coming back from injury from the AFL which has probably hurt us a bit, but I think we are starting to get when the ball slipped through Brooke Fogden's legs.

And it was Beinke who snapped the deadlock in the second term after the Tigers had controlled play for the first 10 minutes but could manage only one goal. The Crows-listed forward, after a close-in goal to Darren Frazer, scored the next two for the Magpies to forge a handy 11-point buffer.

The Tigers, searching for an effective forward, brought burly Damien Gigney into centre half-forward for benched full forward Brendon Feddema, well held early by Stenglein.

Glenelg nailed their first through elusive Matthew Bode in the fourth minute in the second quarter, but would kick only two more goals for the rest of the game. Golding, taking the centre bounces and then moving to centre half back, was rock solid without swinging the game while midfielder James Byrne improved his output in the second before leaving the field briefly with a leg injury.

The Tigers, badly missing the midfield influence of Matthew Liptak, ploughed into every contest but could not match the Magpies' experience and superior skill level.

Port simply had too much firepower, while the Tigers, with only four goals for the game, must lift for next week's match against West Adelaide or risk losing touch with the leading pack.
