A MORE skilled Woodville-West Torrens conjured a burst of brilliance to claim a 33-point character win over a tough and determined Glenelg outfit in testing conditions at the Bay yesterday.

There was no place for the timid on the slippery Glenelg Oval and the highly-rated Eagles had to use all their cunning, guts and guile to shake off an improving Tigers outfit with a fighting third term.

Played mostly in steady rain in the toughest conditions of the day and kicking into a blustery wind, the Eagles drilled four goals in eight minutes - including two brilliantly-executed drop-punt goals by Chris Kluzek from around the 50m arc - to break the deadlock.

The Eagles, up by seven points at half-time despite dominating the centre breaks, lifted with huge efforts from best-afield David Newett, David Gallagher, moved to the wing at quarter time, Jame McLure, bullocking big man Paul Lindsay and Gavin Colville, who together changed the flow of the game.

But it took a slice of magic from stoic defender Brent Frewen just on time-on to spark a match-winning three-goal blitz in as many minutes.

Frewen charged at a loose ball across the centre line, gathered neatly in driving rain, side-stepped two opponents then delivered faultlessly to Kluzek, who kicked truly to put the Eagles nine points up.

The effects of Frewen's commitment spread immediately, with Mark Jeffries slamming through a running goal from 50m. Ken McGregor (3.0) then made Todd Winstanley pay for a careless trip 48m out to drive a 21-point wedge between the sides. Kluzek marked on the siren to post his third goal for the day from 50m which gave the Eagles a 27-point break and enough of a buffer to win coming home with the wind.

It was a mentally-tough surge from the Eagles which had been tested by Glenelg's vigour and attack. Yet the Eagles had more of the ball all day and had more contributors after half-time when concentration was paramount.

nailed some goals and really worked hard was an excellent effort," coach Ron Fuller said. "There were some really good signs by our onballers and our forwards finally nailed a few goals. Our tackling was up - there were no soft tackles. "We've had a month where our training has been low-key... this week, we certainly increased the intensity."

Glenelg's midfielders Kane Cornes (28 disposals, seven tackles), Malcolm Greenwood (23), Sudjai Cook and Phil McKenzie had plenty of the ball despite the Eagles' Lindsay's (20 tap outs) dominance.

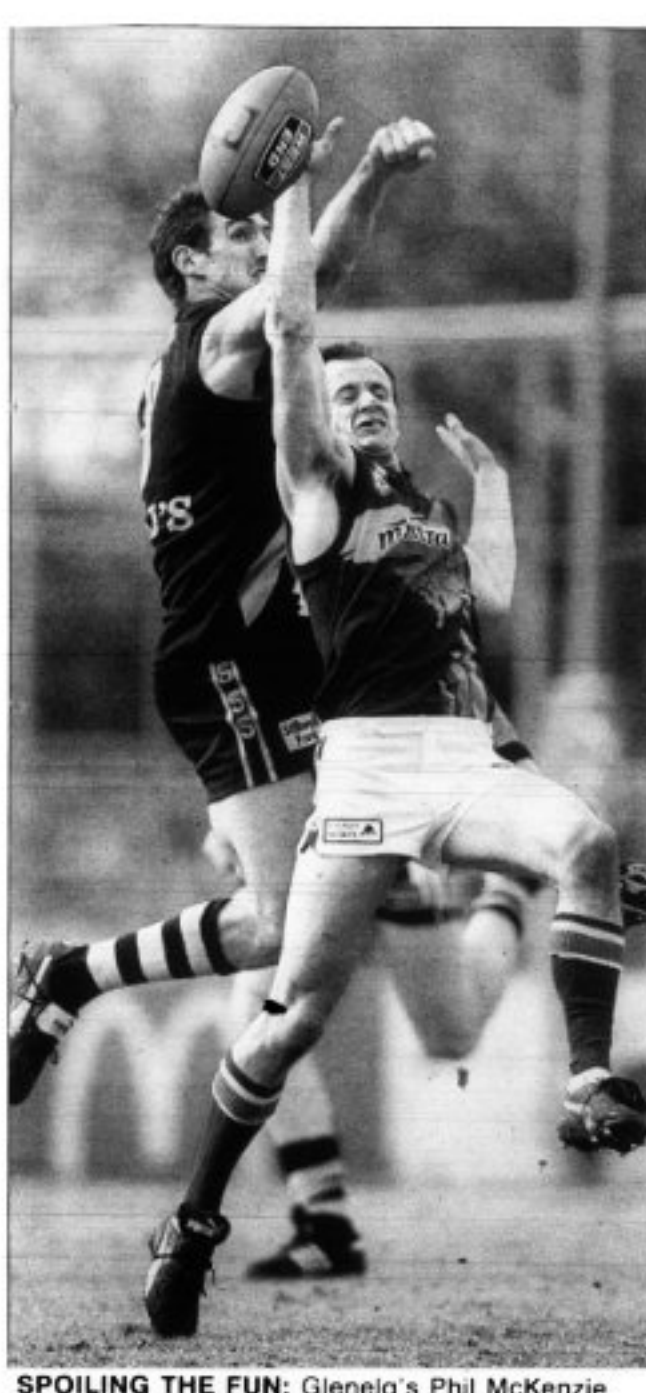

The Tigers looked threatening outside the attacking 50 but with goalsneak Sam Logan kept in check by disciplined Andrew Crowell, the Tigers were forced to fire in the ball with little system or chip sideways, which allowed the Eagles time to pounce.

It was a solid performance by Glenelg but it must play direct, attacking football for four quaters to beat good sides.

"Ten minutes in that third quarter and it's the game," Glenelg coach Brenton Honor said. "It was tight all day and it was always one of those game where someone had to break and, unfortunately, it was us.

"We identified at quarter-time and half-time that we were struggling around the ball and our stats as far as stoppages and centre clearances were way down because they (Eagles) have such an even spread of quality midfielders - it was just weight of numbers."

Being three premierships points ahead of bottom side North Adelaide gives next week's clash at Prospect special interest but Honor said he was more concerned about continuing the Tigers' improvement.
