

GLENELG v WOODVILLE-WEST TORRENS

GLIDEROL STADIUM, 2.10PM TODAY

GLENELG

RUCK: Button, McFarlane, Allen

INTERCHANGE

Bradley, Carger, Kirk, Clayfield

IN: Carger, Gill, S. Snook

OUT: Lyons, Agnew, McIntyre

WOODVILLE-WEST TORRENS

RUCK

Parry, Cicolella, Shirley

INTERCHANGE

Heinjus, Culley, Ellis-Yolmen, Lane

IN: Lane, Culley, Ellis-Yolmen

OUT: Rowntree, Knights

Justin Cicolella

Riley Milne

Young guns join Bay battlelines

REECE HOMFRAY

GLENELG is bracing for reigning premier Woodville-West Torrens to come out breathing fire as it fights to keep its season alive at Gliderol Stadium today.

The Tigers have named two debutants for their own battle - to stay in touch with the top four - with Harrison Gill and Jacob Carger to make their first league appearance in the Queen's Birthday game.

The bottom-placed Eagles (2-6) are desperate to turn their season around and Glenelg coach Kris Massie said his players would be ready for the challenge. "No doubt they (Eagles) will be throwing absolutely everything at us this time," Massie said.

"The challenge for us is to absorb it but also try to be on the front foot and challenge them at every level."

The Tigers' two debutants are both products of the club's under-18 program.

Massie described Gill as a hard-running defender and Carger a highly skilled half-forward/midfielder.

Shannon Snook is the other inclusion for Brad Agnew who was ruled out after suffering concussion last week, while Jarryd Lyons and Ben McIntyre are also out.

Massie lamented a lack of run from stoppages in the round 10 loss to North Adelaide and said his side had addressed it many times in discussions.

"Harrison Gill provides us with a bit of that (run) and we will restructure differently for this clash," he said.

"Having (Kane) Tenace on the outside instead of in, (Jason) Davenport will be important and Tom Logan will go through the midfield more.

"And Shannon Snook provides us with real energy as a crumbing forward."

The Eagles have recalled Travis Lane, Todd Culley and Cameron Ellis-Yolmen to cover Chris Knights, who has been withdrawn by the Crows, and the suspended Angus Rowntree.

"Ellis-Yolmen is a creative midfielder and Travis Lane is a proven goalkicker - he's back and fit and we've been lacking some scoring power," Eagles coach Michael Godden said.

"We've put some simple KPI's in front of the players and we went backwards a bit against West (Adelaide) last week so we want to rectify that.

"We are fighting for our lives now in this game."