

Beware angry Tigers

WARREN PARTLAND

GLENELG reacted to two sloppy losses with an impressive 25-point victory over West Adelaide at Richmond Oval last night.

The Tigers overcame a tardy first quarter to secure their second win of the season, reigning supreme in the middle two quarters on the back of fierce pressure and terrific ball movement.

The Bloods had a goal on the scoreboard within a minute of the battle after receiving a free kick before a ball had been even been bounced. Skipper Tom Keough banged the ball into attack for Mason Middleton to mark and nail the set shot.

While the Bloods were getting some fluent movement, the Tigers' high-possession game in defence was being punished for any mistakes as the home side escaped to an 18-point lead.

When the Tigers were able to find their targets they were dangerous, such as 18 minutes into the contest when Ian Milera's goal was reward for fine work by team-mates.

The two sides must have swapped jumpers at quarter-time. The Tigers took over complete control of the stoppages and constantly attacked against an opponent struggling for answers.

Typically, it was Terry Milera who bagged two goals within a minute, finding space to finish off in front of goal. Then it was typical Josh Scott, marking strongly one-on-one before kicking the goal.

With the Tigers retrieving all the ball and dominating all facets of the game, they went on the attack to have four goals in the first seven minutes of the second term and the lead.

It took the Bloods 21 minutes into the quarter to add to their score, Jono Beech missing a set shot. Just a minute later, Izak Rankine pulled down a high-flying mark in the goal square for the home side.

The longer the game progressed, the more superior the Tigers became. Their pressure and tackling created turnovers and uncertainty for the Bloods. And they were much cleaner with their skills.

When the Bloods did get their hands on the ball, they were often forced to go to a contest because of the opposition's committed defensive strategies. Or they made a poor decision, or fumbled.

The Bloods failed to score in the third quarter, such was the Tigers' dominance.
